Race and Immigration Still a Political Issue

Way back in the early 1980's an earnest left-wing academic, linked to one of the Labour Party 'think tanks' stated that it was time for the issues of "Race" and "Immigration" to be taken out of British politics. He went on to say that all 'progressive' political campaigners in Britain would strive to make matters of race and especially immigration "non-issues" in future elections.

So how has that worked out?

Despite all the efforts of the political Left, their allies and collaborators in the mainstream media, education and social policy, immigration in particular remains a "political hot potato" and race continues to simmer just below the surface no matter how they choose to try to disguise it.

As this issue of Broadsword goes into print, the South-East coast of England continues to face a daily invasion of illegal immigrants coming ashore on the beaches of Kent. In the first weeks of November 2021, record daily counts of cross Channel illegals were being made, and there is no way of estimating those who go unrecorded or enter the UK in the back of a lorry or by similar methods.

The ordinary British people are now seeing the reality of a failed immigration system when over 75,000 illegal immigrants arrive in just one year. Add to that the thousands being housed in hotels at Home Office expense and the 'legally' settled thousands of Afghans arriving as 'refugees'.

Small wonder that pan-Nationalist protests outside hotels full of non-white 'migrants' are gaining much grassroots public support.

Leaving aside the thousands of Ethiopians, Sudanese, Somalis and other African nationalities arriving in the UK seeking 'asylum', the huge numbers of Syrians, Iranians, Iraqis and Afghans, all have one thing in common; they do not share or understand our customs, traditions, values or our way of life, and they have no intention of giving up theirs or adopting ours.

The future prospects for Britain does NOT look good, but Race and Immigration remain issues for our folk, and that is where British racial Nationalism and National Socialism can find fertile ground to grow.

What a Start to the Year!

The start of the year has been eventful, and we are only a month in.

The reported lockdown has happened. The surprise was letting children return to school for a day and then to include them in the lockdown and close the schools.

So again, we are only allowed out for work, food, medical supplies or treatment and exercise.

The new law already started on how the poor children should be paid for by every one. This time though the government decided against workers and how firms to send food parcels out. But these who returned the parcels instantly took to social media complaining that the parcels were not good enough and all the illegal do-gooders have jumped on the bandwagon and our government have done their usual thing and looked down and families now can claim the vouchers again.

The vaccine program is full swing. At the start of this week over 6 million people have had their first dose. Where money wanted as now there are more vaccination centres across the country.

'Oh, local doctors' surgeries cannot get enough vaccines. The vaccine is allegedly going to last the winter, but still we wonder when children will be allowed back to school or when this current lockdown will end. We definitely will still be in lockdown until the end of March by the looks of things.

Then just last week there Christople hit our fair lands and yet again many people suffered from their homes were flooded. Why because developers and the government agencies involved with planning have constantly ignored nature and flood plains. Flood plains are natural, they decide where the water will go when our rivers are flooding. But many that think building where they want will beat nature and forget about the poor individuals who think they brought into the future.

Whilst over in America, they have a new President who is passed his test and has to be told what to do and what to say. The events leading up to the inauguration have been condemned by the world as an attack on democracy. With the attack on Capitol Hill, the country is now on the heat for all those that took part. Yet, the BLM are still protesting, and so consideration for the destruction and violence they commit.

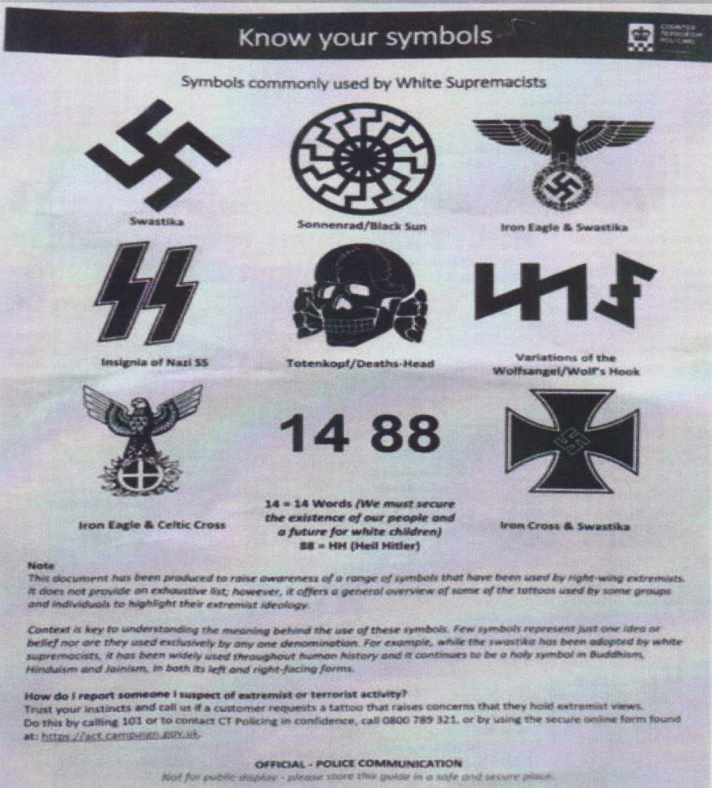

Time will tell, we are in for a bumpy ride. Even though we are thousands of miles away, the damage the new President comes will affect us. Time will tell, we are in for a bumpy ride. Even though we are thousands of miles away, the damage the new President comes will affect us.

STASI STRATEGY: THE POLICE STATE IS BECOMING A REALITY

Counter Terrorism Police Want Tattoo Parlours and Tattooists To Become Secret Police Informers

As this issue of Broadsword goes to press we are hearing more reports from lapsed members of British racial Nationalist organisations being approached by plain clothes Special Branch (political police) officers who invite them to become paid informers inside specific racial Nationalist organisations.

The Special Branch claim that there is ‘concern’ about the possibility of so-called, “Lone Wolf Far-Right” terrorist attacks in the United Kingdom. This is of course a media generated fantasy which gives the intelligence services and Special Branch an excuse to operate indepth surveillance on patriotic and Nationalist organisations and individuals without too much evidence of the existence of actual plots or threats. The majority of so-called ‘Far-Right’ plots that are vastly over reported in the mass media usually centre on individual on-line fantasists or very small groups of teenage boys who cannot diffentiate between on-line fantasy computer gaming and reality.

The latest ploy by the political police and the self-styled ‘Counter Terrorism Police’ is to approach professional tattoo artists via a mass mail out of alarmist and impressive looking “information sheets” seeking to recruit professional high street tattoists as unpaid police informers.

Illustrated here are two pages from the documents being circulated by East Midlands Counter Terrorism Police

Note the symbols illustrated; the BM rising Phoenix and Sunwheel is wrongly described as being an “Iron Eagle and Celtic Cross”, these ‘experts’ on the ‘Far-Right’ obviously do not know what they are talking about and need to get their facts straight.

AFGHANISTAN

The collapse of the Afghan government supported by the US led Western military coalition has exposed a glaring flaw in the Globalist plan to 'Nation Build' in Afghanistan under the guise of the so-called 'War on Terror'.

The rapid capitulation of the corrupt Kabul government, the triumph of the Taliban and the disastrous evacuation of US and allied forces has set an ominous example to the world.

The repercussions of this Globalist failure will last for decades and the flood tide of displaced Afghans will impact on Britain and Europe permanently unless there is a radical shift in policy towards population shift, mass immigration and the resettlement of millions of self-styled 'refugees' and 'asylum-seekers.'

Britain and Europe now faces a flood tide of Afghan refugees - massively boosting 'The Great Replacement' agenda of the Globalists.

Leaving aside the economic consequences of resettling hundreds of thousands of Afghans in Britain and most countries of the European Union, the effective colonisation of these countries by non-European Muslims will have historical repercussions.

Culturally the impact of a huge influx of Afghans will be permanent, the shift in the ethnic make-up of Britain and Europe will be permanent.

In the United Kingdom it will be no easy matter to absorb 20,000 or more Afghan refugees into British towns and cities. There will be no attempt at integration or the adoption of British values and customs by these people, who will seek out the existing centres of non-European settlement in order to access mosques, Islamic centres and those muslim immigrant owned shops and businesses that will meet their dietary and cultural needs. There are existing communities of Afghans settled in the UK which will act as a magnet for the new arrivals from Afghanistan. Although these are early days in the government's resettlement programme, certain immigrant welfare organisations are demanding that the Afghan refugees are not dispersed across the country, but are to be allowed to join the Afghan communities in major urban centres, specifically in Greater London, Birmingham, Manchester and Glasgow.

Such concentrations will in future decades become politically active and it is then that the full impact of their presence will be felt.

The collapse of the US/UK/Western military mission in Afghanistan is already having serious repercussions on world geo-politics.

The 'liberal democratic intervention' in Afghanistan lasted almost 20 years, cost untold sums of money spent on the military campaign and 'humanitarian' reconstruction projects by the USA and Western governments.

The short term and long term economic impact on the USA will expose the weakness of their financial system.

The industrial-military complex of international companies and corporations based in the USA has massively profited from the war in Afghanistan.

Even though trillions of dollars worth of military equipment was left behind, billions of US dollars were squandered on incompleting infrastructure projects and millions of dollars were siphoned off by corrupt contractors and Afghan officials. Vast sums of US taxpayer's dollars have effectively disappeared into the bank accounts of the Afghan elite and the directors of international re-construction companies.

The renegade journalist Julian Assange accurately described the US investment in Afghanistan as a massive "money-laundering operation."

The evacuation of Saigon at the end of the Vietnam War had a massive negative impact on the psychology of the USA. The ignominious scramble to evacuate Kabul in August 2021 will have a similar long term effect on the US military and the civilian population of the USA.

Already in the USA there has been a rash of suicides by military veterans of the conflict. Their desperate acts of self-harm inflamed by a sense of national shame, failure of mission, the futile loss of comrades and a sense of abandonment by a global elite that does not care.

“ Behind all legal activity must stand a steel-hard, ideologically sound cadre unit.”

ANS 1990. (Working Plan East)

In Shaping Our Campaigns and Activities We Can Learn From Our Left-wing Opponents;

“the single most important thing in politics is to have the initiative, to set the agenda”.
Labour Party directive in the Blair/Brown era.

The Activist

“ We want to attract those few thousand people who make a country tick. A few thousand is not many in absolute terms, but a few thousand of such importance , sharing the same thoughts and methods, represent the potential for revolution.”

Taking the Message Out Onto The Streets

The Covid Act has brought a number of changes into British law, more importantly it has brought changes into how the police deal with demonstrations and public protests. Many police forces appear to interpret the rules on freedom of assembly, freedom of speech, freedom to protest in wildly different ways, often leaving decisions on the ground to lower ranking police officers or even down to individual officers. Often it is the case that police make restrictions or even prohibitions and arrests on totally unlawful grounds and then sort it out later with the usual mumbled apologies from the force press office and a curt letter of ‘No Further Action’ from some desk-bound police inspector. BM members and supporters taking part in street protests and similar public activities should follow the directions of officially appointed BM Organisers, or when available BM Leaderguard activists. Do not get drawn into taking unauthorised or illegal actions by some recently arrived individual or individuals you do not know. It is an established tactic by police and by certain ‘anti-fascist’ groups to embed agents provocateurs amongst the genuine Nationalists and patriots. Those people are there to create trouble and to entrap Nationalists into either committing an arrestable offence or into creating a suitably discrediting photo-opportunity. At all times maintain discipline and trust those who are actually in charge.

KEEP IT LEGAL !

This is now especially true for BM activists who are operating in Scotland. The new Public Order legislation there makes even indoor conversations subject to legal scrutiny.

KEEP IT LEGAL !

All British Movement propaganda is carefully scrutinised to ensure that the wording is within the law and does not breach any of the UK's draconian Public Order or Race Relations laws. If you are producing local placards, leaflets, or posters and are unsure; check with the BM Sunwheel Office before going ahead.

FACING THE POST-COVID FUTURE

British National Socialist activists have to be realistic about staging public activities in the post-Covid period.

The situation on the streets has changed; policing and protest regulations are changing. There is now large scale surveillance by CCTV in all city and town centres.

Our political enemies have been emboldened by the Black Lives Matter protests and Nationalists of all factions face aggressive two tier policing. The 'Woke' elements are primed to take offence and make complaints to the police at every opportunity. Plan well in advance - keep it legal!

There is no end to the assortment of militant Marxist organisations our British Movement activists face on the streets. Pictured below is an anti-fascist poster being circulated by the pro-IRA organisation Soaradh a violent group allied to Anti-Fa.

The threatening nature of their politics is clearly illustrated here by the imagery used on their poster.

Suitably hysterical and inaccurate in content, the reports were intended to provoke a response from Jewish organisations and to generate donations for the 'work' of CAAS.

Children who grow up with both biological parents in the same household are less likely to experience a variety of cognitive, emotional and social problems. We don't want to see our children's lives destroyed by gangs, drugs,

It is a fact that in the late 1960's and early 1970's the 'Gay Pride' marches and festivals in London allowed the organisation PIE (Peadophile Information Exchange) to run stalls and displays as part of the emerging 'Gay network'. It was only after a series of high profile police investigations and court cases that the PIE organisation was outlawed and its evil network shut down.

National Socialism is 'Green' at Heart The First Environmental Protection Laws in Europe Were Enacted in Germany Under the NSDAP.

In the post-1945 when 'Green' politics moved into the mainstream of European politics, every effort was made to deny the 'Blood and Soil' roots of the environmental movement. The political Left quickly subverted the Green Movement and incorporated Marxist anti-capitalist dogma into the established environmentalist agenda. The pre-war theories of 'unacceptable' National Socialist or Fascist writers were expunged or carefully sidelined.

Previously recognised pioneers of environmentalism such as Walter Darre, Henry Williamson and Dorian Jenks were now unwanted reminders of the past. Green politics now looked to the Left for direction.

In modern UK politics, the Green Party is the obvious outlet for environmental issues, but is dominated by the Left and is increasingly moving further to the Marxist Left, becoming ever more 'Woke' and putting 'social justice' at the heart of recent campaigns. This outlook is best illustrated by a former advisor to the UK's only Green Party MP, Caroline Lucas, who was quoted as saying, "In 2015 we had less ethnic diversity than UKIP". Therefore the Greens are desperately seeking to increase their party's non-white membership and to be seen as being less-white and racially diverse.

This of course ignores the reality that most of the ethnic minority population of Britain, do not identify with the British countryside, have no 'Blood and Soil' ancestral ties to the land, and are mostly urban based. Moreover the Green Party is always quick to denounce any part of its membership who are moved towards any suggestion of what they term 'Blood and Soil Nationalism'.

Race-Baiting Articles in the Mainstream Media Pushes the Agenda Under the Guise of "Informed Debate"

Illustrated here by two articles from the 'Guardian' on consecutive days at the end of October 2021, hiding behind the idea of 'Black History Month' and pushing the Black Lives Matter concept.

Although actual 'Black people' (those of African or African-Caribbean origins) make up less than 10% of the total UK population, articles like these demand representation way above that population percentage.

THE LABOUR PARTY IS NOW DOMINATED BY THE TOXIC IDEOLOGY OF 'WOKE' POLITICS

In the wake of the disastrous election defeat at Hartlepool in May 2021, a senior Labour Party MP and former shadow minister, bluntly stated that the Labour Party was now,

\ A London-based bourgeoisie, with the support of brigades of woke social media warriors, has effectively captured the party. They mean well, of course, but their politics - obsessed with identity, division and even tech utopianism - have more in common with those of Californian high-society than the kind of people who voted in Hartlepool yesterday."*

In other words, the Labour Party has turned its back on the British White working-class and rejects their values and traditions; time for radical change to reach out to those hundreds of thousands (millions?) of White British working-class folk and to guide them into the embrace of a British National Socialist movement.

When people see the seemingly never ending flow of illegal immigrants crossing the English Channel being housed in hotels, yet see homeless White British ex-servicemen on the streets they become angry. When they see thousands of Afghans brought into Britain to receive priority on housing lists, school places and NHS treatment they become angry.

The ordinary White British see that the Labour Party has abandoned them; the Conservative Party lies to them and rewards the wealthy. At every turn the 'Woke' forces of cultural Marxism are forcing unwanted changes on British society.

Cultural Marxism takes in a wide sweep of Marxist- leftist and liberal organisations Illustrated here is a pro-refugee/migrant sticker being promoted by Irish Republican groups in both Ulster and Scotland.

Note this sticker is printed in Irish Republican colours Green/White/Orange.

GLASGOW - September 4th 2021 - SCOTLAND'S SHAME

September 4th saw the cheerleaders and supporters of the IRA terror campaign taking to the streets of Glasgow to stir sectarian tensions and to build support for their cause on the mainland. Whilst these events are not new to Scotland, on this occasion this event was noteworthy in several respects.

The group organising this event were not the usual suspects, the unemployable junkie scum from the east end of slums of Glasgow based around Celtic park. But instead were an organisation with confirmed links to the security services and a group with an unusually large number of "political prisoners", most of whom find themselves behind bars as either a direct result of their own stupidity or as a result of "information received", yet astonishingly none of its leadership are incarcerated.

Saoradh at first glance appear to be a run-of-the-mill group of leftist-Fenian malcontents agitating in favour of migration, BLM and the LGBT agenda, however it differs from its contemporaries in that, certainly in Ulster it both has access to weapons and has the cannon-fodder prepared to pull the trigger and engage in riots.

Indeed we learn that two of its cadres are charged with the murder of the leftist lesbian journalist Lara McKee in a Saoradh sponsored riot in Londonderry. McKee's killing was a genuine mistake by Saoradh, having been shot by one of its incompetent gunmen who had been shooting at the police. This act, having taken out an accredited asset of George Soros marked the party as "beyond the pale" for the majority of their fellow Marxist republicans, hence the Glasgow march comprised a couple of dozen dupes. No one, including other Irish republicans care about their prisoners.

Both Police Scotland and Glasgow City Council will have been well aware of these facts, yet granted permission for the march to proceed, indeed such was the massive police protection afforded to these scum that their parade could barely be seen by either patriots protesting or the general public.

The cost of such policing has of course not been revealed, as rate payers foot the bill for these and related events, and whilst Police Scotland are tough on loyalist and patriotic counter demonstrations, they seem more than happy to afford protection to the IRA's Scottish fan-base.

Glasgow City Council, dominated by the anti-British SNP and their colleagues in the Labour Party are also happy to facilitate the IRA, such is their uncooled hatred for both Britain and Scotland. Indeed, SNP councillors and candidates have been pictured at similar pro-IRA events. Only the particularly unsavoury nature of the march prevented elected representatives from taking part.

But let us return to the Saoradh group, only the furthestest Left will lend aid or succour to it or its agenda, for while other traditional anti-British groups avoided the march, the Revolutionary Communist Group (Fight Racism/Fight Imperialism) banner was trailed alongside the Saoradh 'colour party' and was of course supported by AFA. Indeed the speaker at the rally was Newry's Stephen Murney, who is heavily linked to AntiFa in continental Europe, a former jail bird, and a man who despite being unemployed is financed to appear in international events sponsored by the party.

Strange too, in an era where banking facilities are denied to authentic nationalists across the globe, it is possible to go on to the Saoradh site and send money directly towards financing terrorism via PayPal!

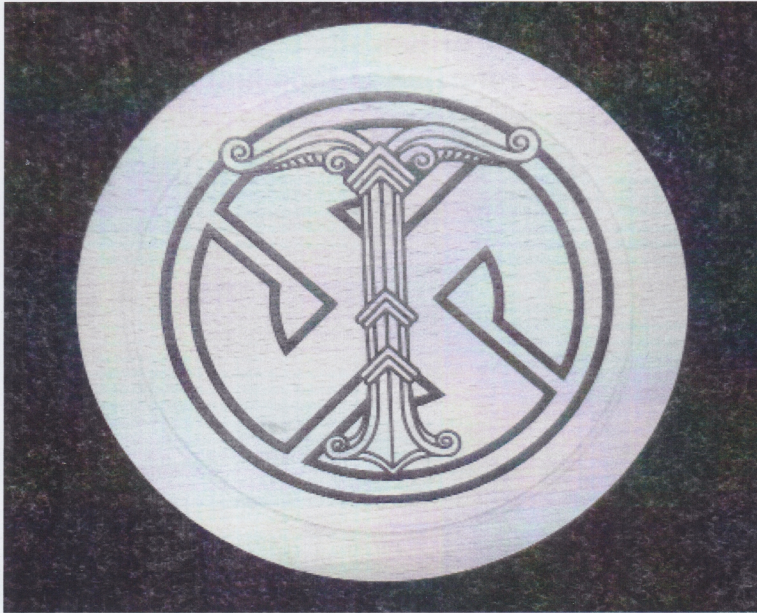

Saoradh stinks, but the more politically astute may well smell something much, much worse.....

OUR ANCESTORS

We Cannot and Must not Allow the Cultural Marxists to Falsify the History of Britain.
To Denigrate Our Ancestors and Forebearers.

Ancient Sites Must Be Protected and the Historic Symbols of Our Folk Must Not be Outlawed.

There is a sinister, creeping threat to the monuments and ancient symbols of Britain and Europe's Aryan past. Woke culture together with virulent Marxist anti-racists are seeking to eradicate whatever they determine to be examples of 'White Supremacy' or 'White Identity politics'. Islamist groups regard all such pre-historic sites as being contrary to Sharia law and would eradicate them if at all possible.

From the World Zionist Congress comes a sly and subtle campaign to seek the outlawing of ancient European symbols, particularly Runic symbols and emblems. This campaign has gained ground in the USA where the Anti-Defamation League has convinced elements within federal law enforcement to publish illustrated lists of "Hate symbols" to aid law enforcement and prison staff in identifying "Far-Right" or "White Supremacists" by their choice of tattoos, badges on clothing or unusual items of jewellery.

Similar identification documents are now circulating in the United Kingdom, often supplied by professional anti-racist organisations keen to be seen as "assisting" the police, probation and prison services in identifying possible "Far-Right" racist offenders.

In countries such as Germany and Austria this identification of the Runes and ancient Germanic symbols, has been grasped enthusiastically by authorities, while there has been significant resistance to do so in the Scandinavian countries where this cultural attack has been recognised for what it is. Needless to say, organisations representing non-European migrants and non-white colonisers are equally keen to eradicate such symbols of White Pride.

St David's Head in Pembrokeshire

A 7th Century early Christian shrine was built on top of an earlier pagan sacred site. The upright stone bearing a carving of a Sunwheel was easily converted into a Celtic Cross by adding an extra 'leg' to the bottom of the Sunwheel image. In other parts of West Wales there are examples of the Sunwheel being 'adapted' by the early Christians into more 'acceptable' symbols for use by new converts from the Old Religion.

JOHNSON & JOHNSON - TOP 10 CHARITIES OR COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

WINNER UK BLACK PRIDE

Beginning in 2005, UK Black Pride provides a safe space for LGBT+ Black, Asian, and Minority Ethnic annually, drawing up to 8,000 attendees. In the June 2019 issue of British Vogue, the UK Black Pride co-founder discussed the origin of the event, occurring in response to the lack of representation at mainstream Prides. This year, UK Black Pride announced a 3-day online event with the theme of 'Love and Rage.' UK Black Pride has created a place of inclusivity for many that were marginalized at Pride events previously.

- DRAG QUEEN STORY HOUR UK - Drag Queen Story Hour UK works hard to provide positive exposure of LGBT+ individuals to children, in an interactive and fun community session.
- FRINGE! QUEER FILM AND ARTS FESTIVAL - Beginning in 2011, the festival provides an invaluable experience to London's queer art scene, providing a platform for artists in a welcoming and creative environment.
- IT GETS BETTER - This non-profit has been empowering people on the international stage since 2021, publishing essays and providing educational and supportive content online for LGBT+ people.
- JUST LIKE US - Just Like Us focuses on championing LGBT+ equality in schools through initiatives such as School Diversity Week and The Ambassador Programme.
- MINDLINE TRANS+ - An invaluable resource for transgender, non-binary and genderfluid individuals, providing a safe space and helpline with trained volunteers.

GLOBAL ALLY

WINNER HILLARY CLINTON

In the US Senate, Hillary championed legislation to address hate crimes, advocating to end restrictions blocking LGBT+ Americans from adopting children. Had Clinton become President, she said her advocacy for the Equality Act would have been "at the top" of her "list", (the Equality Act was the first bill that explicitly aimed to protect the rights of LGBT+ people). Hillary spoke out against the legal subjugation many in the community face, stating '[LGBT+ people] deserve justice, and equality under the law, and it's why I support the Equality

Examples taken from the British LBGBT awards 2021 newspaper clearly demonstrate the subversive nature of the LGBT+ agenda as it undermines British societal norms.

"UK Black Pride"

It is not just the indigenous White British population who are being subverted. Here the BAME communities find that their cultural and religious values are being undermined.

Note that the international pharmaceutical company Johnson and Johnson are funding this specific 'LGBT+ award'.

"Drag Queen Story Hour"

is listed here as "working hard to provide positive exposure of LBGT+ individuals to children."

In the USA a similar scheme has revealed convicted sex offenders using the opportunity to gain the trust of very young children.

Note also "Just Like Us" which claims to be "championing LGBT+ equality in schools" and operates amongst pre-teens and teenage school children through 'School Diversity Week'.

"A Global Ally"

American politician Hillary Clinton is lauded as an "LGBT+ ally" form pushing the 'Queer' agenda in the USA.

One of her crowning achievements has been to change the laws so that homosexual and lesbian couples can adopt children in the USA.

STRENGTH THROUGH JOY

Strength Through Joy events are one of the foundation stones upon which a National Socialist folk-society is built.

Times may change, but the emphasis on raising a healthy, forward looking Folk remains at the very core of National Socialism.

Fighting Back Against the Tidal Wave of 'Woke'

It goes without saying that all the under-pinning values of 'Strength Through Joy' run counter to the Liberal and Marxist values behind 'Woke' social justice campaigns.

'Strength Through Joy' promotes healthy family values, the defence of tradition and national life.

Competitive sport, outdoor activities and the involvement of youth and children in family based events, run counter to the decadence and corrupting 'diversity' of the 'Woke'.

Involvement in 'Strength Through Joy' offers a gateway for our younger generations to escape the artificial, computer generated distractions offered by 'Big Tech', and an introduction to a more physical, healthy lifestyle where their heritage and culture can be safely explored without the constant drip feeding of Marxist ideology and notions of 'White Privilege' and 'White Guilt'.

'Strength Through Joy' allows younger British children to see the evidence of the achievements of their ancestors at first hand, without the background carping commentary of multi-culturalist social justice propagandists.

Illustrated above a booklet 'Folk' which was produced and distributed in the late 1970's/ early 1980's by the group "Folk and Race" <BCM Thule>. A small pocket-sized publication of just 24 pages it reproduced a number of 1930's era Folkish images together with some British folk references and updated racial Nationalist images and quotations. This was a well meaning publication but had a limited circulation in British Nationalist circles and the impact of this booklet was very limited.

This was a great pity, and even more today there is a need for both printed and on-line 'Folkish' material, informing and educating the average British person about the reality of their history, heritage and traditions, together with a realistic approach to environmental and countryside issues away from the Left-wing dominated 'Green' politics.

It should come as no surprise to readers of Broadsword, that one of the future targets of globalist policy as part of the Great Replacement and the Great Re-set, is to develop huge cities and urban centres. where the UK and western European population can be concentrated and controlled. The globalists would empty the rural areas of people, allegedly in the interests of reducing carbon emitting transport, concentrating housing in energy efficient tower blocks, and remove the need for massive road networks.

Such dystopian, Stalinist cities would break all connections with the countryside, isolate our people from the natural world and eradicate all elements of Blood and Soil.

Building the NS Future:

First the Grassroots Mass Movement. Then the British NS State

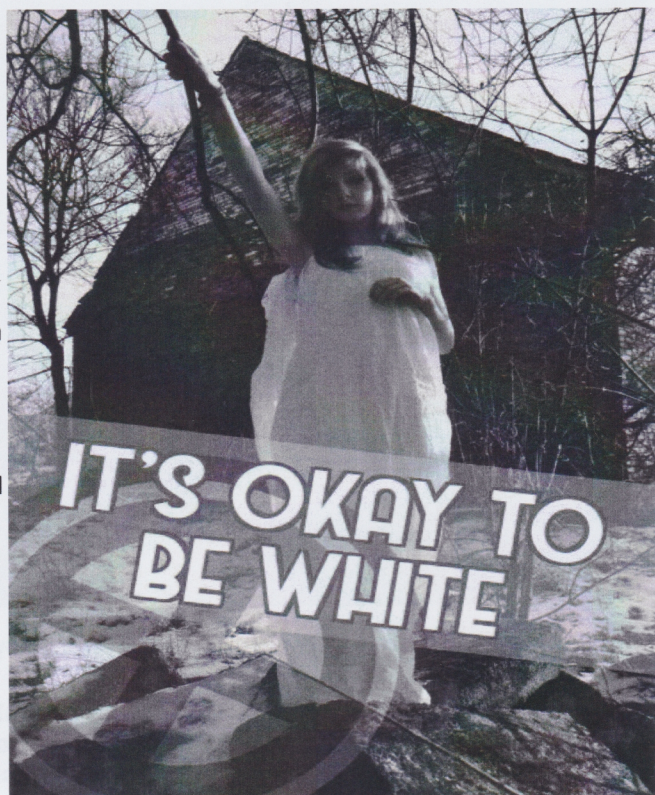

Building a political movement takes time, effort, hard work and sacrifice. There has never been a quick and easy way to build a political movement. The British National Socialist Movement recognises the long term nature of our struggle and the need to build a sustainable, robust network of activists who are committed to the Cause.

"You can't make history with lawyers.
You have got to have heart, head and courage."
Adolf Hitler. 1938.

Building a Grassroots Support Network by Campaigning on Locally Important Issues.

It goes without saying that immigration and race remain important issues for the White British, especially in working-class districts. Opposition to hotels being taken over for housing illegal immigrants and refugees; Asian grooming gangs; as well as moral issues around drug dealers and arrests of paedophiles. These are all fertile ground on which to demonstrate that British Movement is on their side and shares their very real concerns.

Countering left-wing propaganda, mass media lies, and 'Woke' brain-washing

The post Covid-19 world demands radical solutions. We find ourselves thrust into a world where the globalist agenda is running amok. Ordinary White British people find themselves bombarded on all sides by 'Woke' demands to change street names, take down statues, fill the world of advertising with black faces and racially mixed couples. The pressure to make LGBT at the heart of imposed 'Diversity' is confusing and insulting, a direct challenge to traditional family values. Ordinary people are looking for a return to common sense and for stability. This is the opportunity for British National Socialists and racial Nationalists to build and develop a base in communities, to resist Trans - Drag Queens reading stories in pre-schools, to oppose "Woke" council measures on re-naming streets and buildings. To boycott businesses and products that champion anti-British causes or force a 'Woke' agenda. As the post-Covid economy impacts on ordinary White British families, people will be looking for direction, looking for a way out of the social pressures that threaten them. They cannot trust the established political parties. It is time for radical solutions and to be seen to defend tradition.

In Memory of a Soldier of the Great War 1914 - 1918.

Family reflections before this personal history is forgotten.

An article of remembrance by Lloyd P.
December 2020.

Future generations of the White British may well be forced to forget the terrible sacrifices of that generation because it exhibits White Pride or White Privilege.

I am writing an account of the involvement of my and my wife's grandfathers in the Great War. I then intend to have the stories printed in a booklet for my grandchildren so that they will know something of their ancestors before their exploits are completely erased from history.

First up is my wife's grandfather James Warwick Lemmon of the Norfolk Regiment.

All the information is factual and obtained from Norfolk Regiment archives, held at Norwich Castle, where regimental diaries, casualty books, operational plans and accounts of battles are held. The family hold his medals, marksman's badge and three wound stripes, as well as photographs taken at various times including periods in military hospital.

I have embellished the account of his involvement in the battle for Poelcappelle, part of the Passchendaele campaign, from the regimental account of the 8th battalions role in the battle. the casualty book said he suffered a 'severe gas shell wound' and was taken to a hospital in Rouen and then to Queens hospital Birmingham. Where exactly in the battle it occurred is conjecture. The casualty list of dead and wounded for the day of October 23rd 1917 is extensive.

In memory of James Warwick Lemmon, a soldier of the Great War of 1914-1918, may he never be forgotten.

It's quiet now, this rural corner of West Flanders. The flat polder farmland is ploughed under after a summer harvest and now slumbers peacefully in the autumn glow. A gentle breeze rustles the leaves of the poplar trees that fringe the wide fields and populate the roadside verges. To the casual observer all is pastoral tranquility, timeworn and eternal.
But should the casual observer cast their gaze beyond the bucolic imagery, they will notice a landscape that is unnatural in form and melancholic in spirit. A landscape that is tormented by memories of the past and devoid of trust in the future. The casual observer will then notice the cemeteries and 'friedhofs', that with depressing consistency litter the horizon, their megalithic white and black head-stones, and mournful monuments, siren warning the casual observer against obduracy and artifice. An enquiring mind will then ponder on what had passed here.

The Battle for Poelcappelle 9th - 30th October 1917.
The artillery barrage began at 05.35 coming at the German defensive fortifications from several directions. the screaming shells whizzed over the heads of the anxious British soldiers, landing with convulsive thuds some distance ahead. Among the units waiting engagement was the 8th Norfolk battalion. It had formed up at the front line early on the morning of October 22nd along guide lines of tapes and aluminium discs, to prevent them becoming lost in the mud as the autumn rain had been relentless. On terrain crossed by drainage channels, the effect was saturation, the clay rich polder land of West Flanders was a sea of squelching mud. Attempts at digging in were futile in waterlogged ground. So bad was the flooding that some companies had risked moving ahead in search of firmer ground, placing themselves in clear sight of the German artillery.
One soldier nervously awaiting his moment of fate was James Warwick Lemmon of the 8th Battalion of the Norfolk regiment. A farmer's son from the county, he had joined the colours after the harvest of 1914. He wore a marksman's badge on the upper right sleeve of his tunic, on his left forearm he wore a vertical wound stripe, a sad reminder of a part played in the assault on the village of Morval during the Somme offensive of 1916. A shell fragment had cut through his tunic and flesh like a branding iron.

Soon, angry explosions began rocking the British front-line, and Warwick, as he was known to his family, glanced around at his anxious comrades. Warwick had recovered sufficiently from his previous shrapnel wound to be sent once more into the boiling cauldron of battle.

A shell landed nearby and he heard screams and cries.
He half turned to look but the whistle to advance sounded.
No time now to dwell or think. Instinctively, the Norfolks rose from their make-shift shelters and rushed forward.
'A' and 'B' company on the left, 'C' and 'D' on the right. At Requete Farm, 'B' company ran straight into a fusillade of small arms fire from resolute and dauntless German defenders. 'Norfolks' fell left and right, until the occupants resistance was ended without quarter. Onward they rushed to their next objective, Helles House, and the concrete emplacements north-east of it. Shells began to rain from the sky as the German gunners, warming to their task, zoomed in on their targets. Warwick, his adrenalin running, weaved and ducked, fired and rolled, always moving forward. A shell landed closeby and an officer fragmented into pieces of torn flesh. No time to stare in horror. "Keep moving" came the cry. They were soon at the target, the rat-tat-tat sound of light machine-guns was all around, and the deadly heat of their bullets breathed on them as they passed by. He returned fire blindly. No thought of aiming.
The enemy was ahead, immediate and dangerous. Fire and hope. All around, shouts, cries, explosions, dust, noise and the inescapable sucking mud. Soon another objective overcome, defenders neutralised, and prisoners taken. Where next? Nearby an officer consulted his map. Breathlessly, Warwick and his remaining comrades waited. The answer came swiftly in the form of a shell fired from a 4.5 inch howitzer that landed a few feet away. The village brewery was still occupied by German artillery, although Warwick would play no part in their dislodgement.

When he recovered consciousness, Warwick lay on a stretcher at a casualty station, his face was bleeding from a shrapnel wound and his body ached. Was he now one of the half-men? Mustering as much strength and courage as he could he dared to look. His boots were still on his feet and he could feel his fingers. Fearfully, he ran his hands down his body, intact but sore. A voice nearby cheerfully announced that all objectives had been achieved. "Well done men. Poelcappelle is now in British hands. Good show!
Jolly good show!" Warwick lay back, for the moment his war was over. For the moment.

James Warwick Lemmon returned to the Western Front one more time before hostilities finally ceased, suffering a bout of dysentery, recorded as at Etaples on 23.3.1918, and a further shrapnel wound to his face, recorded in regimental logs as occurring on 11.8.1918. His personal sacrifices eventually ended in Mill Lane Military Hospital, West Didsbury, Manchester. On returning to his home, the local postman musingly enquired, "Haven't seen you about the village lately. Have you been working away?"

The Writings of Colin Jordan

Broadsword continues this series of articles examining the political writings of post-1945 British National Socialist activist and British Movement founder Colin Jordan.

“ If there is anything worth fighting for, it is to preserve my own race in possession and control of my homeland, and to see that our resources of all kinds are used to the full for the betterment of our own nation.”

Colin Jordan. 1962.

‘Fraudulent Conversion’

This was Colin Jordan’s first published book, and was his response to the alleged upsurge in anti-Jewish political purges in the USSR and communist Czechoslovakia between 1952 and late 1953. Colin Jordan countered Western media reports that there was a sudden outbreak of anti-semitism in the Soviet Union and Eastern Bloc, and ‘Fraudulent Conversion’ was his detailed response.

The book was supported and funded by his political mentor, Arnold S. Leese, and was published by the Britons Publishing Society in 1955.

The author’s central argument was that Communism had not shifted its ideological foundations and that, “the fact is that Communism is Jewish”.

He clarified this position by stating, “ not for one moment to suggest that most Communists are Jews or that all Jews are Communists, which is absurd.”

However, he firmly believed that, “Jews originated and inspired the creed of Communism, financed and led the Communist Revolution in Russia, dominated the Communist regime in Russia from its outset and still do today....” and went on to maintain that, “There is no such thing as Communist anti-Semitism.”

*** ‘Fraudulent Conversion’ was republished by NS Press UK after Colin Jordan’s death at the request of his widow and is available from NS Press UK.

Something of a surprise

Colin Jordan is now a central figure in a BBC drama ‘Ridley Road’, being screened across October as a four part series on Sunday evenings.

The actor Rory Kinnear plays the role of Colin Jordan and the drama is based on the 2014 novel by Jo Bloom “Ridley Road”.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Another Woke Obsession Foisted on the British Education System

October 2021 is once again declared as 'Black History Month', just as has been the pattern across recent years. In the world of education and entertainment the history and assorted cultures of less than 10 % of the UK population is elevated to even greater heights. In total the BAME population of Britain is approximately 16%, true it is growing faster than the indigenous White British majority, but BAME covers all non-whites; that is Africans, African-Caribbean, Arabs, Asians, Chinese and other Far-Eastern ethnic groups, South-Americans and mixed-race of all kinds.

So far a whole month, every pre-school, primary school, secondary school, college and university is compelled to include Black History Month and to promote Black history and the 'achievements' of the Black peoples.

White students are also reminded of their role in the generation of 'White Privilege' and the role of all White Europeans in the 'oppression' of Black nations and the colonisation and exploitation of non-white countries.

In October 2021, the University of Kent is making it compulsory for all students to take a course which enforces the notion of 'White Privilege'.

IF THAT OFFENDS WHITE BRITISH CITIZENS
THEY DO NOT CARE

The Royal Mint is now being exploited as a propaganda tool for the multicultural agenda. This 50 pence coin proclaims that "Diversity Built Britain"

A Sad Sign of the Times Nottinghamshire Live Declares That "Black History Is Our History"

Does this mean that all the staff at Nottinghamshire Live are black ?

How exactly is Black History the history of the majority White British population?

Even though the city of Nottingham does have some 'multi-ethnic' districts, the bulk of the population of the shire is in fact White British or at the very least White European, when taking into account those who are of Italian, Polish or other East European descent.

"Black History" is not the history of the people of Nottinghamshire and no matter how the Hollywood film industry tries to manipulate the past, Robin Hood must be spinning in his grave at this insult to the folk of Nottinghamshire.

*** Sadly this statement by News Live has been repeated across the country, such as Leeds Live, Yorkshire Live, London Live, and even in areas where there is no black presence amongst the population.

DIVERSITY - The False Narrative

DIVERSITY - the obsession being driven by a Cultural-Marxist liberal elite.

The 'Diversity' campaign is aided and abetted by a willing mainstream media and compliant advertising companies keen to show their credentials as true believers and progressive social justice campaigners.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH - Not as anti-racist as the multi-culturalist promoters would like you to believe....
The Black History Month website is actually owned by a White advertising executive called Ian Thomas, yet has featured a good deal of outlandish anti-white content, some of it so offensive that the website was forced to remove it. But when Black Rights activist Linda Bellos found out who owned the website she made the comment below...

"The whole purpose of Black History Month is to empower us. I don't want a white man in that role"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

I write about the problem of fake charities, which have been taken over by, and are controlled by cultural Marxists with dishonest aims.

They are anti-Truth and decency, dedicated to obscene objectives and degenerate morals. They are promoting what should be the jetsom of a good and patriotic society.

I talk here principally of the following charities; the National Trust, the RSPCA and RNLI, whose attacks have been in the news lately, but there are others.

So what is to be done?

Positive action needs to be taken, complaining, writing letters protesting, leads nowhere. But, their financial foundations can be undermined, There can and should be boycotts of their events and fund raising. Do not visit their sites, do not purchase any of their merchandise, do not make donations to them.

Encourage family, friends and work mates to do the same.

Inform people about the huge salaries that the directors of these charities receive annually.

It is their policies that have undermined the founding aims and objectives, have introduced 'Woke' themes, have introduced falsehoods.

No patriotic or moral Briton should have any truck with them.

Let us work together to force them to change through the financial base of these charities.

Yours,
'Charles Thames'.

Dear Friends,

What does it take?

Just four words, so what does it take to wake up this Tory government?

The Conservative MP, Sir David Amess was knifed to death by guess who? Yes, the son of an African immigrant. the London Bridge murders, carried out by an Islamist migrant; Fusilier Lee Rigby, butchered by two Africans; add to this all the knife crimes in London carried out by black gangs, and more will come by boat or in the backs of lorries.

Yet still the Aryan folk of this country are forced to live in the cesspit society that mass immigration has created.

Why?

The knifing to death of a Tory MP won't change a thing. The only thing that will clean out this country is National Socialism, but sadly so far our words fall on deaf ears, the censoring hand of the Left, through such as the BBC, makes sure of that.

While the BBC keep punching out programmes of hate against the German folk during WW2, we don't stand a chance. I had many German friends and they are good people. But for the likes of the BBC, the hate never stops.

And now the BBC smears Colin Jordan and the NSM!

So Fight on ! Never give up hope!

BRITAIN WAKE !

From an old BM member still loyal ...
Essex.
